It's About Time Class of '99

Dear Parents and Guardians,

We, the John D. O'Bryant Class of '99, want to thank our parents and guardians for supporting and encouraging us through high school. We are grateful because when we were down, you were there to help us back up. Your commitment and dedication is what made us want to achieve. Your strength and faith is what helped us succeed.

High school has been laughs, tears, term papers, and final exams. We have been through field trips, extra-curricular activities, and proms. Through all this, you have always been there. Whether we had questions about algebra or how to spell intercommunication, you still tried. There were many times when we did not want to go to school, and times when we wanted to do something or go somewhere, and you said no. When you gave us answers we did not want to hear. But looking back, we now know you were right. We want to thank you for all the money sacrifices that you have made to help us attain the things we wanted. We are grateful for the times when we needed an ear to listen that you were there.

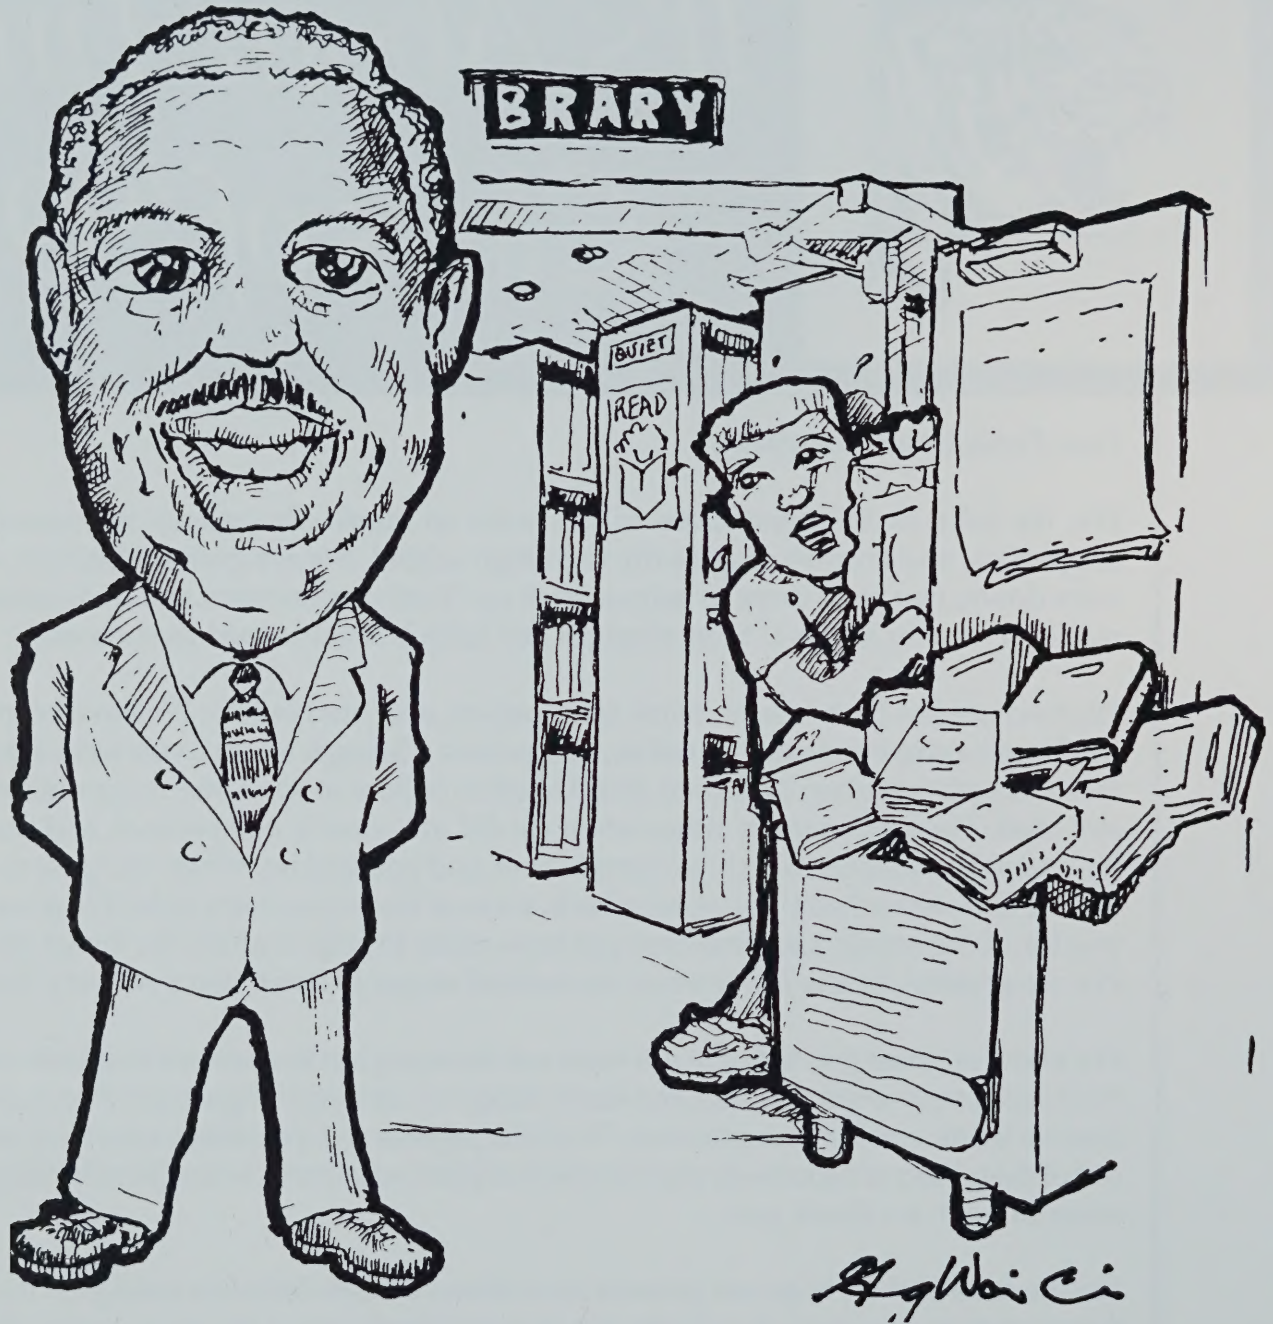

We know at times you thought we were not listening but in truth we had both ears open. We heard every word you said, but some things we needed to figure out on our own. With that we thank you for your patience. To all the parents and guardians who have taken time out of their busy schedules to visit teachers or join committees to ameliorate our academic environment, we thank you.

We the class of 1999, hope our parents have observed their little boys and girls mature into young men and women. It is finally time for us to walk across the stage and we know that without you it would not be possible. We cherish and will forever hold to our hearts all that you have done to help us make it to the top.

Love Always and Forever,
Class of 1999

It's About Time....

Whether it's been six, four, or even three years, our passage through the O'Bryant has been influenced by time. In retrospect, our O'B years bring back vivid memories. Remember the fire drills, the stink bombs in the hallways, Ms. Traniello's urinalysis and Mr. Weiner's pushcart? As the bell "chimes", on this period of our lives, we file on into an unspecified future.

Our high school memories will be some of our most cherished. Even though there have been times when we did not want to come to school, once we got here it was hard to make us leave. Leaving O'Bryant is not simply an end, but a beginning, the beginning of a bright future. We, the class of 1999, with diploma in hand, will embark on the road to success.

O'Bryant has given us the tools that are necessary in the next "term" of our lives. For example, the challenging math curriculum has helped us get into the colleges of our choices. Ms. Bailey's sociology class has taught us how to identify the subliminal messages in life. Mr. Hall's economic class has paved the road for many of us to achieve financial success. Mr. Madeiros' English class has given us the essentials for analysis, not just of poetry, but the ability to analyze the events of our generation. We thank the faculty at the John D. O'Bryant for giving us such an extensive education.

As we end one "period" of our lives, time can only tell what the future holds. Some may go on to college, some may take a year off from college to work, and others may take time out to decide what to do with their lives. Whatever the case, the choices that we make, as in the past, will be affected by time. It is up to us to make the right ones.

With all that said, Class of '99, it's about time to take on the real world.

Presidential Address

Senior class of '99, the year is over and we did it! We have accomplished one of the major goals of our lives. No more waking up for high school, rushing to be on time for first period, trying to complete yesterday's homework or even trying to study for Mr. Cao's dreadful tests. Instead, we will take a different step on life's ladder. For some of us college is before us and for others the challenge of work. But whatever it shall be, I have faith in this class. There is no limit to what we young, talented, and intelligent youth can and will do for this generation, and the world.

I want each and every senior to realize that when God created man, he bestowed the gift of dreaming. This gift enables us to make the impossible seem possible, to excel above all obstacles, no matter what the odds are. Understand that life will not always be fair. However, we should accept failure and defeat the same way we accept achievement and victory, and learn from it. Do not count how often you have been knocked down or how often you are on the ground. Count instead how often you have the courage to pick yourself up and continue the struggle.

I say thank you to all that supported, believed and instilled their trust and faith in me. Go out there and show the world what you've got. God Bless!

I Remember When ...

...Winter came and snow was on the ground. I had snowball fights in the football field, with all my buddies. We made snow angels.

...I first came into the senior class and I decided to change myself for fun. My best friends Elizabeth Medina, Kimberly Chen, and Sobia Syeda, I give you guys props for puttin' up with me.

...How Helen and I met in Mrs. Wyman's class, and that Helen had a fall in gym class in 7th grade.

...Salomon fell on his behind and tried to play it off.

...We had a little water fight at the end of the year.

...When NJROTC went to Florida (twice).

...Ms. Gutierrez started to cry in class.

...Nneka almost choked Reggie to death in the cafeteria.

...Jason beat up Edwige.

...Lydia and Yvonne got in a fight and Yvonne's breast fell out of her shirt.

...Marshelle was scared to come on Holley block with Tanisha because it was dark and everyone on Holley block was outside.

...Donald spread rumors and said my father kicked the door down, but he only knocked on it.

...Wedley ran around downtown with boxers on just to get a pair of DMX concert tickets. He got the tickets.

...Jamila shot at the wrong basket in a game. Kara was about to beat up Tanisha

...Schelbine's weave fell out.

...Roceli was catching the bus, it squashed her between the doors, let her go, left her, stopped and then picked her up. Everyone in the bus was laughing.

...Mauricia made a dive down the stairs.

...I was a junior. Mr. Billage's 7th period class was buggin'. They were talking when out of nowhere Donald Flakes put a garbage bag over himself and started dancing like Missy Elliot.

...the guys were cute and the girls were straight

...Jason hang Lashawnda on the door by her bookbag

...Jenny hit Helen in the face with her locker.

...Salomon accidentally bumped his head into a stop sign.

...We went to Florida sophomore year and Shermaine twisted her ankle.

...Shahied and Benji fought junior year.

...Stevenson's football jersey was pink instead of white.

...Nadia tried to do a cart-wheel at the cheerleader battle and slipped and fell.

...Jonathan Jemmott got his underwear pulled completely off after school.

...Efe got hit by a van at Roxbury Crossing and had to wear a back brace, head bandage and arm cast.

...MR Chuang got slapped in the face by some Madison Park kids. He turned red and started to cry.

...I had Ms. Terry in 7th grade, a couple of us came back the last days of school to help her clean up. We all got tired of soaping and scrubbing so we told her that we would dump the bucket of soapy water out. Instead we hid in the auditorium and stayed there for a while. Minutes later we heard Ms. Terry screaming for us. She finally found us and made us all sit in her room in silence for the rest of the day. After a half an hour of silence, we begged her to let us help her clean.

...Mr. Guaragna released his jaw muscles thus allowing his mouth to open and extract from the left and right direction and actually producing a smile to the point where his front teeth shoved.

...Our student teacher for physics was leaving and we threw a party for him.

Someone dared me to bite a celery that was half way in Cadriane's mouth and then Cadriane and I had a food fight with the chocolate cupcakes.

...during freshman year, Robert's pants ripped in gym class.

...I tried to kick Robert in the Science building, but I missed, fell on the floor, and messed up my foot.

...I was sitting in Ms Jean's 9th grade French Class, where Mr. Austin used to be. We heard a lot of noise outside. Sam Renelien was being chased by some boys and to save himself, flew into Ms Jean's window and landed on one of the tables.

he had to walk around all day with shorts. On top of that it was snowing outside.

...We were in the seventh and eighth grade. Ms Allen was the teacher and we always had to sing songs like "God Bless America" and "Henry Ford". I also remember when Tweety and I used to heat up the boys, all the times when we used to race to the lunch room to be the first in line. Stephen, Salem, Jerry, Gustavo, and all the rest of the peeps that were cool. I remember the good old days.

...Ducks got hit in the head with a coke can in Mr. Chuang's critical thinking class.

...when Jean said he was taking a "Char o key" (Cherokee) to the prom.

...I first went to this school. I didn't really have a lot of friends, except for like 2 close friends of mine, Cindy and Betty. The first time I stepped into this school, I was like this is big and I was all confused at where my homeroom was. I remember when I went all the way to the Madison Park side and asked people to direct me to my homeroom and the security said I was on the wrong side of the building. Eventually I was able to find my homeroom although I was the last one in the class. To think back it seemed funny that I went all the way to the Madison Park side to look for my homeroom.
